OsmoWeld® MPF™

restores wood pole strength

Woodpecker damage repair with MPF is fast, easy and clean compared to other systems. The KwikMixx™ cartridge system provides even mixing of the two-part epoxy formula. Cartridges come in two sizes for small or large repairs.

For maximum results, all debris and foreign materials should be removed from the damaged area and tape should be placed over the entry hole. After drilling a filling hole at a 45° angle, OsmoWeld MPF is injected into the cavity. The product will flow easily and evenly, completely filling the hollow, which is vital in preventing the return behavior of woodpeckers. OsmoWeld MPF set-up is fast and does not require the high temperature of past repair systems.

Osmose pole treatment and restoration products have helped pole owners restore and maintain wood poles for more than 60 years. Osmose is committed to providing the most cost-effective and reliable asset management solutions for transmission and distribution system owners.
